Section 2.2.1.1      Urban Regeneration

The Urban Regeneration and Housing Act 2015, which was enacted as an action of the Government's Construction 2020 Strategy, provides for a range of measures to encourage developers and landowners to develop land identified for regeneration and housing purposes. The legislative mechanisms include the establishment of a vacant site register and levy to incentivise development and bring sites into beneficial use.

In accordance with the provisions of the Act, it is an objective of the Council:

To promote the appropriate development and renewal areas, identified having regard to the core strategy, that are in need of regeneration, in order to prevent:

- (i) adverse effects on existing amenities in such areas, in particular as a result of the ruinous or neglected condition of any land,
- (ii) urban blight and decay,
- (iii) anti-social behaviour, or
- (iv) shortage of habitable houses or of land suitable for residential use or a mixture of residential and other uses.
