The Ethical Artist Webinar and Clinics Monday 24th January 2022 11 am

As part of our commitment to the Professional Development of artists, Tipperary, Clare & Limerick Arts Offices have arranged for VAI to host this webinar which will highlight best practice considerations and techniques for visual artists who wish to reduce their environmental impacts, use materials with more awareness, and create art that challenges our ecological and societal perspective.

This interactive webinar will be led by environmentalist John Thorne who has been Glasgow School of Art's Sustainability Coordinator since 2013: Working with designers, architects and artists his work seeks to broaden and deepen student experience, exploring how practice can connect us to ourselves and each other and promote social justice. It asks how can we emotionally support nature through art, and better engage people with environmental & ethical issues like climate change and biodiversity loss.

Further information and registration details are available through the links below.

Decade of Centenaries - Minister Martin announces opening of Markievicz Award for 2022

The Minister for Tourism, Culture, Arts, Gaeltacht, Sport and Media, Catherine Martin TD, has announced that her Department's Decade of Centenaries Markievicz Award bursary scheme for artists will open for online applications for the 2022 Award. This will be via the Arts Council's website on 11 January 2022 and will close at 5.30pm on Thursday 10 February 2022.

The Minister makes Awards under the scheme each year to up to 10 artists (either individual artists working alone or in collaboration with others) – to a value of €25k per individual or group. The Minister's department partners with the Arts Council on the administration of the scheme and the Minister will announce the award recipients for 2022 in April. Guidance to Applicants for the Award is available now.

Minister Catherine Martin launches Online Consultation on pilot Basic Income for the Arts

The pilot is set to open for applications early this year and will be available for artists and creative arts workers to support their practices

This online consultation offers the public the opportunity to feed into the policy development underpinning the pilot scheme

Catherine Martin TD, Minister for Tourism, Culture, Arts, Gaeltacht, Sport and Media has launched an online consultation on the Basic Income for the Arts (BIA) pilot scheme to elicit the views of artists, those working in the arts and culture sector and the public.

The online consultation is now open and is available for response here until the consultation closes on 27 January 2022.

The online consultation follows a successful stakeholder forum on 15 December that saw over 150 participants from 50 artists and arts workers resource and representative bodies come together to discuss the proposal and provide their views and feedback to the Minister and her Department.

The purpose of the online consultation is to ensure that the general public, artists and those working in the arts and culture sector have the opportunity to contribute to the policy development for the pilot scheme and to offer suggestions from their experiences as artists, arts workers and members of resource organisations on key issues such as the schemes objectives, eligibility criteria, supporting emerging artists and participant responsibilities.

The Basic Income for the Arts pilot scheme will be launched in the coming months. Further details will be published on the Department's website after the feedback and input from the online consultation is assessed and finalised.

Artist in the Community Scheme Mentoring Award: new for 2022

Create invites expressions of interest from collaborative socially engaged artists, or artists interested in/transitioning into collaborative socially engaged arts, who wish to avail of a focused period of mentorship to develop and consolidate their practice.

The Pilot Artist Mentor Panel is funded through the Artist in the Community Scheme (AIC), managed by Create on a devolved basis for the Arts Council. The AIC Scheme is a primary vehicle for collaborative socially engaged arts practice in Ireland.

Visit <https://www.create-ireland.ie/projects/subpage/aic-mentoring-award/pilot-aic-scheme-mentoring-award/> for full details.

The closing date for Expressions of Interest is Monday the 17th January 2022.

FRESH INTERNATIONAL FILM FESTIVAL 28th March—2nd April 2022

Founded in 1997 as the Irish School's Video Competition, Fresh Film was originally a schools competition for secondary students. It has since grown into a year round organisation with a focus on national and international filmmakers spanning the primary and secondary age groups. 'Fresh International Film Festival' now includes 'Ireland's Young Filmmaker of the Year Awards', which constitute three sections – Junior (7-12 years) – Senior (12- 18 years) – The International (7-19 years). Each section is open to individual filmmakers, schools, youth and community groups.

Fresh Film runs programmes throughout the year under five headings; Fresh Events, Fresh Education, Fresh International, Fresh Production and Fresh International Film Festival.

Website: <https://freshfilm.ie>

Closing date for submissions to Ireland's Young Filmmaker of the Year 2022 is Friday 21st January 2022.

JAPANESE BLACK INK PAINTING FOR BEGINNERS ONLINE PROGRAM

(image: student Patricia O'Donovan's work)

Learn brushstrokes and techniques for painting grasses, flowers, trees, mountains and landscapes in this online blended learning program for beginners (adults). Japanese Black Ink Painting (Sumi-e) is a unique art form using only black ink, handmade paper and a special brush. It is a calming and relaxing art form.

This blended learning program involves live group learning online sessions including guidance and feedback to improve personal progress, access to pre-recorded instructional videos that people can watch in their own time as well as a monthly online zoom cafe (where people can meet up for tea and a chat and, if they'd like, show their paintings) and a private members art community area where members can keep in touch.

There are many different ways to engage with this program, and each subscriber can decide on their own way to engage with the learning to suit their own needs, level of experience and availability.

Raising Voices fellowship for underrepresented voices

The Raising Voices fellowship is inviting aspiring writers and/or illustrators who make work for children and young adults to apply for their new fully-funded, career-altering programme. Encompassing a host of creative and practical supports, the six selected fellows will be connected to a welcoming community of practice and supported in developing their careers.

The fellowship is led by a group of literature organisations including Children's Books Ireland, Illustrators Ireland, Publishing Ireland, the Dublin Book Festival and the Tyrone Guthrie Centre at Annaghmakerrig. Raising Voices aims to break down barriers to publication and progression, and to increase diversity and representation in the Irish literature sector for those whose voices have been underrepresented due to background or identity.

Raising Voices fellowship will provide six children's artists with:

- Mentorship and critique from experienced artists and directors
- A week-long residency at the Tyrone Guthrie centre
- A welcoming community of practice

The training, tools and support needed to carve out a career in Irish children's books

Raising Voices is fully funded with a stipend for the residential week & travel, accommodation and childcare costs.

For information please visit <https://childrensbooksireland.ie/raising-voices-fellowship>

Applications open for LEAP: Paid artist workshop for underrepresented communities

Baboró International Arts Festival for Children as we are launching a new artist development programme, LEAP, and we are seeking to build relationships with other organisations to cast a wider, more inclusive net in reaching artists interested in creating theatre/performances for children and young people.

LEAP is in partnership with Moonfish Theatre Company and NUI Galway, and is a paid 4-day workshop and community-building project for creative individuals from underrepresented, ethnically diverse communities or migrant backgrounds curious about creating work for young audiences. The workshop will take place in person in Galway City from 4-7 April 2022.

You can find more information on the attached callout and on our website at <https://www.baboro.ie/news-events/callout-for-leap>.

Please note that the closing date for applications is midnight Sunday 30 January, 2022.

There is also a free information session on Thursday 13 January 2022 at 3-4pm on Zoom.

The Zoom link will be made available at the above link on 13 January or you can register here: <https://forms.gle/P58DdUT3uKDQMt8k7>

Damer House Gallery: Homeland 2021 'Dog Days' Exhibition Running Online From: 15th December 2021 – 15th January 2022

Since 2014 Homeland has shown in Damer House Gallery, Roscrea, Co. Tipperary in collaboration with LOOP Festival Barcelona and Àngels Garcia and Natalia Foguet, Independent Curators.

Homeland is dedicated exclusively to video art and film. It aims to bring together professionals in all fields in the sector, filmmakers, writers, directors, and producers within a space with international associations. Homeland has become a national benchmark event, an active platform for the diffusion, creation, and management of video art for fans and professionals.

This year the theme of Homeland is 'Dog Days'. The exhibition was shown in St. John's Tower, adjacent to Damer House, Roscrea, Co. Tipperary in October and subsequently at Alalimón Galeria, Barcelona, where it ran until 18 December, as part of the LOOP festival.

It will be streamed online from mid-December until mid-January at <https://www.nenagharts.com/event/damer-house-gallery-homeland-2021-dog-days/>. Damer House Gallery are delighted to have the opportunity to showcase Homeland 'Dog Days' online and to collaborate with Nenagh Arts Centre again this year.

Irish selected Artists: Alannah Bates, Sarah Edmondson, Ali Farrelly, Eduard Fulop, Niamh McGuinne, Susan Hughes, Stephen Gunning, Finn Nichol.

Selected Barcelona Loop Artists: Valentina Alvarado Matos, Bernat Daviu, Anna Dot, Miralda, Eduard Resbier.

Is an online festival calendar to highlight and promote Festivals and Events across Tipperary which has been developed by Tipperary County Council.

In addition to being a promotional tool for events taking place throughout Tipperary, this online festival calendar will also facilitate organisers in planning event dates by providing an accessible reference point for as many of the County's Cultural, Community and Sporting events as possible, acting as a "clash" calendar for organisers when setting dates for festivals and events.

The calendar is easy to use and organisers can register their events on the website. Cultural, Community and Sporting events are categorised under a range of headings and users may search by date or type of event. Categories include: Arts; Children's; Family; Comedy; Exhibitions; Fairs; Shows; Markets; Festival; Film; Heritage; Historical; Lectures; Readings; Music; Theatre, Sports & Outdoors.
